

The Big Saturday Night Show

We've created this page to help you understand more about how cookies work and how we use them on our website. Your browser or device may allow you to block them, but it might stop some features on our website from working if you block them.

The law requires us to provide you with detailed information about the cookies that may be set when you visit our site. This policy aims to provide you with information about cookies, how they are used on our site and how we obtain your consent.

What Are Cookies?

Cookies are tiny text files stored on your computer when you visit most web pages, cookies do a number of things that help you to manage your web experience. To learn more about cookies, take a look at this website. <http://www.whatarecookies.com>

Our Cookies

The cookies set by our site will be recognised each you visit us, these cookies collect information about how visitors use a website, for instance which pages visitors go to most often, and if they get error messages from web pages, what searches they may have done on the website. These cookies do not collect personally identifiable information. All information these cookies collect is aggregated and therefore anonymous.

This data helps us to understand:

- Which pages people visit on the site
- Which internet browsers are being used
- What is popular on the site

Wordpress

The website is built with WordPress which uses a number of plugin applications. Some of these applications use cookies and some of them are persistent and remember choices you have made on the website. Others are session cookies which expire on exit from the browser.

Social Media

We use a number of social media platforms (for example, Twitter, Facebook) to make our website better and encourage visitor interaction. If you already use these social media platforms, then this may allow them to set cookies through our website. We have no control over this, it allows data to be collected by these companies which enables them to show adverts on other sites that they think are relevant to your interests.

How We Get Your Consent

The first time you visit this site after you have deleted our cookies from your device, you will be presented with a notice informing you that our sites use cookies. If you decide to continue through the site after being presented with that notice, we will assume that we have your consent to set cookies as described in this policy. Disabling Or Blocking Cookies

You can delete cookies at any time using your internet browser settings. You can also set your browser so that cookies are automatically blocked and prevent them from being set. If you disable or block cookies, our website may not function properly
